DETAILED ACTION

1. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this section can be found in the prior office action.
2. The prior office actions are incorporated herein by reference. In particular, the observations with respect to claim language, and response to previously presented arguments.
3. Terminal Disclaimer filed on 03/02/2005 have been acknowledged and recorded.
4. Claims 1-21 are pending.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments filed 03/02/2005 have been fully considered and they are persuasive.

Allowable Subject Matter

6. Claims 1-21 are allowed.
7. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:
Carroll teach a secure server in a secure distributed information system using vault where the supervisor supervises the process between the user and personal vault through the network by mapping the user id.
Curry disclose electronic module in a secure transaction environment where process of secure exchange such as money between a user and a provider takes place by issuing a random number and enclosing it with the request thread and using public and private key for authentication and verification of certificate issued.

Caronni disclose communication between two parties where such communication is upgraded from insecure to a secure communication using an access control list in each party that support encryption according to request received.

However Carroll, Curry and Caronni's system and method singly or in combination would not have made obvious the Applicant's invention in a distributed network wherein a controller supervisor invokes a service function in a separate service thread after successful server connection, enabling user request mapping; and invoking an initialization for launching at least one persistent thread that facilitates communication between at least one service thread and a corresponding process as recited in independent claims 1, 11 and 21.

8. Dependent claims 2-10 and 12-20 are allowable as being dependent upon Independent claim 1 and 11 and having additional allowable features therein.

Conclusion

9. Any comments considered necessary by the applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submission should be clearly labeled "comments on statement of reasons for allowance."
